DANCE APPRECIATION

BULLETIN INFORMATION

DANC 101 - Dance Appreciation (3 credit hours)

Course Description:

An eclectic survey of various dance forms including primitive, historic, ballet, modern, and Broadway musical

SAMPLE COURSE OVERVIEW

The Dance Appreciation course is designed for students who are not familiar with the study of Dance History and the different dance genres. This course offers an overview of the development of Dance as an art form from primitive and ancient times to the 21st century. Through lectures, demonstrations, in-class discussions, videos, and the viewing of public performances the students will explore dance principles and traditions, as well as social and cultural contexts. The historical extent of the course will cover fairly large time spans to familiarize the student with various periods and allow them to grasp the overall flow of Dance History up to the 21st century.

This course focuses on concepts such as dance genres and stylistic traditions. Dance genres to be explored include ballet, modern, contemporary, jazz, tap, musical theatre, social, religious and world dance. This course will examine these dance genres as well as their different general styles, forms, and history.

ITEMIZED LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of Dance 101, students will be able to:

1. Identify and describe the elements of dance
2. Identify the different dance genres and styles and explain the social, cultural, and historic context in which they were/are produced.
3. Explain the purposes of dance cross culturally and the development of dance.
4. Communicate effectively about dance.
5. Analyze production quality in choreography, staging, etc.
